

RENT HOLIDAY HOMES IN THE CHARMING VENETO HILLS

Vicence is a province of Veneto, located in the northeastern part of the Italian peninsula. His landscape basically consists of olive groves, orchards, vineyards and rolling hills. The lush green countryside dotted with elegant Palladian villas, medieval villages and churches with unique charm. Vicenza, capital of the province, is a major cultural center. It claims to be the "City of Palladio".

Andrea Palladio, the famous architect of the Italian Renaissance, born in Padua and Vicenza died in the 16th century and author of the now famous Palladian villas.

The Palladian Basilica is located in Piazza dei Signori in Vicenza; this ancient religious building now houses exhibitions of art and architecture that draw a large audience from around the world.

Chiericati Palace, also designed by Andrea Palladio in 1550, includes elements inspired largely by classical antiquity. There are many old houses that adorn the city center, including: Palazzo Valmarana Civena Palace, Palazzo Schio, Palace Buzzard, etc.

Outside of the city, tourist activities are available in many places: climbing, mountain biking, hiking, paragliding, skiing, snowboarding, ice skating, etc. Games, therefore, to discover the magnificent sights as the Berici Mountains, Mount Grappa and Asiago plateau!

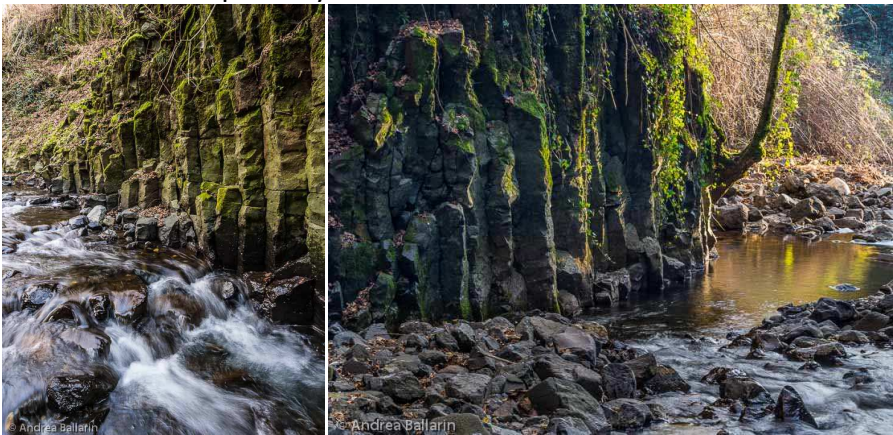

The Bregonze (or even Bragonze) are lovely hills extend between the river Astico north from Vicenza and the Asiago plateau.

They are of volcanic basalt formations with various colors belonging to the 'end of the basalts from Vicenza', extending from the northern of Vicenza, Montecchio Priabona, Malo and at the foot of the Asiago plateau.

A big arc discontinuous varied in igneous rocks, sedimentary and effusive, formed between the Eocene and Oligocene 60/40 million years ago, the so-called phase of eruptive activity berico-lessinea-Marosticana, due to the fracturing of the crust during the lifting of the structure adjacent foothills of the Alps. They are even columnar basalt formations.

The rounded profiles culminate in the central hub Ca'Vecia (Ca'Vecchia) and Pian Marola, maximum altitude of 422 meters above sea level.
